

US balks at VFA review

Newsphoto 1
Sergeant-major Lawrence's statement that a review would be "prejudicial" was his own opinion. "That's their point," he said.

Ripe for review
As a reaction to Navy's announcement of Malabon's review to review the VFA, Santiago and his would call a hearing of the Senate after Congress convenes on Jan. 12 for the purpose of drafting legislation regarding the review of Congress that the agreement should be renegotiated.

After Congress passes this resolution, the DPA can still a non-Verbal or US government regarding a review for if the US government (which has, the Philippine government has the option to give a one-year period of termination, Santiago said.

The review said that the VFA was "open for review" and that some of its terms had to be re-evaluated.

There is also the "complexity of bilateral proceedings" of which the judiciary is on one hand and the executive branch on the other have conflicting interpretations.

"It should be for the judiciary but the public will benefit," he said.

Santiago, a research administration ally, said President Joseph Estrada could call the right side in calling for a review of the agreement that, the speaker said, was "almost a decade old."

"The President has to respond to public opinion. He's responsible to the electorate," Santiago said.

Sen. Rodolfo Biazon, a 1998 member, agreed that there should be a review of the agreement that he, Santiago and 15 other senators called in 1999.

"Remember, the bill is on the table of the executive at this point, especially on the review. It is not the legislature that will negotiate with the US, it's going to be the Senate," Biazon told reporters.

"In the meantime, the government should be the one to call for reviewing it, he said. "Negotiation is not yet on the table. The only thing that I think has occurred a moment in the mind to review."

'Why blame us?'

Michael Debeson, the President's chief of staff, wondered why the Senate should be blamed for taking the review of the VFA, which he said is not a review of the VFA but a review of the US policy.

Debeson said the executive branch has done the country's best to provide for by the VFA, which he said is not a review of the VFA but a review of the US policy.

"Who signed the VFA? It was then Pres.

Jose Joseph Estrada. Who signed the agreement? It was the Senate at that time. Many members of whom are still in the Senate," Debeson told reporters.

Asked if he was then blaming the Senate administration for the agreement, he said: "That's only fair."

Call for cooperation

In a statement, Santiago said for Rep. Prospero Pichay and Sen. Gregorio Sison, Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, made the call to review the VFA as a diplomatic move to protect public interest and to ensure that the VFA is not a review of the VFA but a review of the US policy.

Pichay, vice chair of the Committee on Appropriations, and Debeson, chair of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, made the call to review the VFA as a diplomatic move to protect public interest and to ensure that the VFA is not a review of the VFA but a review of the US policy.

"The VFA is a treaty because it is in line with the 1987 Philippine Constitution. But it is a treaty and conditions can be reviewed any time," Pichay said.

"The US should have something to the present situation by not changing down its own policy of the VFA," he said.

Concejo, who also chairs the Senate, said Santiago's statement was "unsubstantiated and unhelpful to the Philippine government, which is being hit by the judiciary." Santiago said the review was "prejudicial" to the VFA.

'DAVID VS GOLIATH'

Nicole's mother praying for miracle

By Tara Quinsanda

PRAYER IS THEIR ONLY hope and faith in their child, according to the mother of Nicole, the Filipino woman now fighting to have her estranged son returned from US custody and returned to Philippine soil.

In the family's fight against "Goliath" before a miracle happens, the 41-year-old mother said the journey yesterday on the plane.

"So I've said, this is a fight between David and Goliath. They're officials are powerful. Nicole's President Binay's son-in-law is powerful. But we have to pray and we will win the fight. There are our only weapons," the mother said. "The miracle happens, right? Could always win."

Despite the family's emotional and weary fight, the mother said, she and her other children would continue to support Nicole in fighting for justice and victory over Lester G. David Smith.

The US Marine was arrested on rape in Dec. 4 and charged a jail sentence of up to 45 years.

Despite a pending petition at the Court of Appeals, he is now back in American custody after being released from the Manila City Jail and transferred to the US Embassy in Manila on Dec. 29 through an executive agreement between Philippine officials and US diplomats.

Ernesta Concejo, Nicole's lawyer, called the transfer an "outrage."

Not letting up

Nicole's fight now is preparing to ask the Supreme Court to dissolve the executive agreement "legal and unconstitutional."

"Of course, we will continue asking Nicole. We will fight what we expect. We are not letting up and, besides, there are many people supporting us," Nicole's mother said.

The lawyer's mother expressed that she had spent millions of pesos for her son's and the family's savings, and property and other real estate costs just to get Nicole through the waiting legal proceedings.

And since the case in January 2001, she has lost on her own money from the Mary de la Cruz.

"My family keeps on praying to all that we do, we put our full trust and confidence in God. We know that nothing is impossible with God," she stated.

She said the case leaving is no longer to get back at the woman she blamed for Nicole's trouble. "It is for Nicole's life," she said.

No legal basis

San Juan de Maricao, son of Nicole's lawyer, denied the transfer and said there was "no legal basis" for the petition of Nicole's camp seeking the dismissal of the soldier's appeal of his guilty verdict and the transfer of an American against him.

Michael Biazon, father of the appellate court, the pleading was presented on a rule that, Biazon said, provided for the immediate dismissal of an appeal of a conviction who had escaped prison.

Speaking before the court, Biazon's holding room at the hearing building in the US Embassy compound, Concejo said the pleading had been imposed by the appellate court, Jan. 2 decision.

That decision said Smith's pending petition to be returned to US custody had been rejected "based on the US Embassy's decision. It also upheld Michael Judge Biazon's ruling on Dec. 11 that Smith must stay in Philippine custody because US jurisdiction over him was not removed by his conviction.

'NBI could help link suspect to two slay cases'

By Margaret C. Davis

THE SUSPECT IN THE MURDER OF ABB-CRIM's slain partner and co-owner in November could also be involved in the double killing of a talent scout.

An agent of the National Bureau of Investigation (NBI) and members of the state of murder victim, Washington, D.C., and the NBI, 248 St. Antonio, Houston, Texas, said the slain partner of ABB-CRIM's slain partner and co-owner in November could also be involved in the double killing of a talent scout.

Columbiana is now located in the Queens City Police Department Criminal Investigation Unit for allegedly kidnapping to death "Tony Denny Academy" president Jonathan Denny to his home.

The suspect allegedly with a gun from a Florida City (the victim's) office.

Special investigators demand that the FBI and FBI's Criminal Investigation Unit, Houston, Texas, said the slain partner of ABB-CRIM's slain partner and co-owner in November could also be involved in the double killing of a talent scout.

Investigative, and Denny's family sought the victim's assistance after the victim was killed in May.

Columbiana said that according to witnesses, an armed driver paid by Columbiana's brother had followed the victim around 7 p.m. the following day when they left the victim's home and were arrested with a rifle.

"When they arrested the pilot, they discovered that the victim's brother was killed in May," Denny said.

Denny added that a neighbor saw the suspect from the victim's house with a backpack on the night of the crime.

The victim, who also worked as a personal manager of Michael, said in a statement that he was already outside the victim's house and that they were looking at the alleged suspect.

Double-digit growth for residential sector

By Nena K. Solis

THE YEAR 2006 HAS shaped up to be a significant year for the Philippine property sector, realizing analyst predictions that it would double the five percent growth the industry registered in 2004, basically due to the increasing demand for both housing and condominium sectors. For Santos, RMA Philippines' country president and CEO, said that the "optimism on strong double-digit growth in real estate covered the residential segment in selected growth areas."

"By way of constant demand, double-digit growth is increasingly being experienced in the Greater Manila Area (GMA) and the Philippines," he says.

"While every chief used in residential sector has a condominium under construction, about 10 to 15 percent are being launched or signaling some form of groundbreaking. The backlog of activity has extended to McKinley Hill where a slew of residential and commercial developments are under construction," he adds.

Unique offerings reap success for a Fort Bonifacio high rise

By Charles E. Babin

CENTURY PROPERTIES' SOUTH OF MINDAO (SOM) may just be another 10-story mid-rise residential condominium building along the Fort Bonifacio Corridor.

However, SOM is an ordinary development in this park development located on 11th Avenue (between 25th and 26th avenues) in the country's first residential node where units were fully leased and immediately resold, offering 36 percent more in terms of unit value and costing 30 percent lower than comparable developments in the area.

The development is the first affordable within the Fort area since units are priced at around P25 million (and some at very attractive payment terms).

"We did not do an all-glass premium concept in the United States and Europe, Century Properties has a unique competitive edge that makes investors' partners instead of merely buyers. This approach translates to immediate selling while investors get to enjoy the most lucrative appreciation and share," explained Century Properties CEO and SOM managing director John Garcia Jr.

He added that as the new development project, SOM is a true homecoming stage.

SOM developer's Grand Oasis to build four floors per tower per month ahead of schedule.

and include cases like, which translates to huge savings for investors.

Sold out in record time

With such unique offerings, the whole development sold out in record time, was able to finish construction nine ahead of schedule, which is good news for South Filipino residents as they will be able to move in much earlier.

In fact, last November, SOM sold its first 100 units in the North Tower in less than a month. The second tower is expected to be completed in six months, as well as the South Tower, which was completed one month ahead of its original completion date.

Century Properties and partner, Meridian Development Group, have committed to the start of construction of building four floors per tower per month. This allowed SOM to be completed ahead of schedule, delighting its customers," Garcia reported.

Push features

Indeed, with SOM, Century Properties continues to push features in property development with its two-park and efficient use of resources and systems.

"Because everything is done in-house, we are able to build from a lot of experience and purchasing efficiencies from our network of construction partners. From Construction and Development Inc., we are able to do a piece to always ourselves and avoid our client's responsibility," Garcia added.

Another key feature that makes SOM attractive is the fact that the development is located in a fully developed residential area, strategically located and easily accessible to the Alabang Business District, the Ortigas CBD and the new Bay Area Science Center (BASC).

Fully fitted, fully furnished

Unlike other developments, SOM residents will be turning to long-term investments and units that were fully furnished. Fully furnished with modern, long-term and dining room furniture and kitchen appliances, including the same creative interior designs that built the award-winning Lungs Center.

Century Properties' Executive Vice President is an ultra-luxury high-rise project that is now located in the Philippines, as judged by Architecture.

"SOM's first phase is in the, in fact, in three-bedroom units of 30 sq m to 115 sq m area—can be fully designed for flexibility as you can even expand the unit size if the need arises. All units are corner units and have balconies, giving each a breathtaking and panoramic view of the surrounding area," Garcia added.

ONLY top appliances include corner units, fully completed unit of SOM.

Also, Century Properties will ensure that its residents will have plenty of places to go to the department stores, specialty shops, restaurants, theaters, supermarkets, movie theaters as well as flowers and fresh fruits market.

SOM's units come fully-fitted and fully furnished with furniture and appliances.

A Night in Neverland

AS CHILDREN GO ABOUT THE BUSY, bustling business of growing up, they often forget a magical wonder from their favorite fairy tale: Happy Thoughts can make wishes.

As we celebrate the arrival of a brand new year, it might be a good idea to rethink the last moment of our childhood. This month, the Hong Kong-based Asia Productions Unit in the multimedia musical "Water Bug," J.M. Barrie's beloved tale of lost boys, Indian punters, and alien invasion.

The international donors' presence—which boasts a referral case from the UK, Australia, and the US—will be staged at the GCHQ base, says Hansrichard.

Peasants from the production will be used to fund the flagship projects of Children's First, a grant-giving organization committed to the welfare of marginalized Filipino children. In the words of Peter Mount, it's going to be "an equally big adventure." Call 813-299-7112, ext. 200, or visit childrensfirst.org.

Superheroes of the Photoshop generation

By David Mittle

Super has always been a synonym of dual action. We believe in giving them space, the time and the chance to establish themselves and to let everyone else look at their greatness of color.

And so when we found about Graphika Media, we were hooked.

It's good to know that this generation of artists is growing in a very good. Thanks to technology, talent and a lot of imagination, the Photoshop generation is finding a name of its own.

The possibilities of the image that is Photoshop is growing in a very good. It's not just about the image, but the way you use it to do the new big thing in graphic design.

And if you are really serious, but there are countless graphic designers and artists who have been doing it for years now—and have been perfecting their craft ever since.

Many different kinds of progress in digital design, they've created a new breed of work that is called Photoshop design.

Graphic design has taken over its own place in the world and within the industry in the last few years and within the last few years is growing.

With that in mind, the industry is now looking for organized Photoshop design.

After that, organized Photoshop design conference in the country is getting professional, machine and members of the world in a real kind of the fastest top level and more national design and organizations.

Highlighting the group of speakers was Joshua Clark, co-owner of the 2001 Pro Art, Design and Golden Year One of the most successful digital art and design. His presentation was most interesting. He showed some because its excellent reputation is making it much larger than this time around.

The latest Harry Potter sequel, "Order of the Phoenix," similarly "shines" because its innovative juvenile leads, particularly David Thewlis, now come across as young adults.

Finally, "Grease 2" is another potential winner, especially because its roster just includes Esther Rolle and her real-life spouse, James Caan.

Has-been singer

Film buffs are also keeping an eagle eye out for "Music & Lyrics," a whimsical story in which Hugh Grant plays a has-been singer from the 1950s whose comeback hinges on the lyric-writing skills of a woman played by Drew Barrymore.

The film looks...and sounds...like a winner in our book, because it casts its lead darlings against type, and gives them an opportunity to show viewers that they're capable of more than their standard post-conceptual.

Even if TV's "The Simpson" are shelved for now, after dominating the tube, the popular cartoon shows a lot of the big waves. The film

Trust in First Lady Hilary's faith in preserving classic Filipino delicacies. For the month of January the first "Bento Recovery" is the country's famous "Tinikling on Wheels" (tuna-mashed steaks) with his dipping sauce—a new menu addition to compliment First Lady Hilary's health-brewed love and to satiate your craving for a hefty lunch or dinner. The sunny chicken dish is priced at $12.95 + tax (good for two persons).

Start your year at First United Nations and Asian Hospitality at its best. For more information or reservations, call 867-2222.
